DISCUSS ASSISTANCE FOR CITY POLICE
—A conference between Mayor Edwin F. Radel, members of the Board of Police Commissioners, and others, with Francis S. McGarvey, superintendent of the New York State Police, opened in the mayor's office this morning to determine the extent of state assistance available in a program to better the local police department.

Rocket Has Faults in Assembly

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy has discovered faulty assembly of some crucial parts within the second stage of the Vanguard test rocket now awaiting launching, it was learned from reliable sources today.

The pipes leading to and from a small tank containing liquefied propane gas were discovered in reverse position.

The strange error apparently overlooked in the inspection process at the manufacturing and assembly plant in Baltimore.

No Suspicion of Sabotage
There was no suspicion of sabotage.

The embarrassing error: 1. Contributed to the postponement of a Navy satellite launching attempt this week. 2. Led to a Vanguard propane fuel shortage that produced a further delay.

May Launch Next Week
The difficulty reportedly has been corrected, and a Vanguard launching attempt may come any time next week, weather permitting.

Many experts agree that the chances of putting up a Vanguard baby moon on this attempt are extremely slight. A full scale Vanguard satellite launching attempt will not come until a rocket with a 20-inch sphere aboard is fired a month or more hence.

Story Leaks Out
The amazing story of the faulty Vanguard assembly leaked out despite the curtain of secrecy the naval research laboratory set up after a Vanguard rocket blew up on its launching passed inspection at the Martin Co. plant in Baltimore.

Pipes Switched
Only after it was erected in its launch stand here was it found that the two pipes connected to openings in the liquefied propane gas container had been switched around.

One of the openings admits the propane into the tank and the other serves as a vent or safety outlet for escape of the fuming propane.

Difficult to Remedy
The pipe fittings were said to be internal, reachable only by cut. (Continued on Page 7, Col. 3)

Goes to Clinton For Car Theft, Second Offender

Robert J. Warren, 27 year old Boston, Mass., resident who stole a car last October from Washington Avenue and led the local police on a hot chase before he was captured, received a sentence of from 2½ to 5 years at hard labor in Clinton prison Thursday afternoon.

Warren admitted he was the same person convicted of "breaking and entering" in Brookline, Mass., in 1953, and that he was sentenced to prison at Dedham, Mass., on that charge. He was sentenced by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn in county court as a second offender.

Arrested After Chase
Charged with grand larceny for the stealing of the car of William R. Gould, Port Ewen, Warren entered a plea of guilty to one count of the indictment. Joseph Saccoman appeared for defendant by assignment. Warren was arrested after a hot chase along Route 9-W when he was slowed down by a road block near the Kingston state police station.

Hasbrouck School Is Favored 17-12, Poll Called Inconclusive

Parents of pupils in Schools 3 and 4 approved construction of a new elementary school in Hasbrouck Park by a 17 to 12 "straw vote" last night, but school officials indicated the attendance at the meeting did not prove a conclusive answer.

Only about 50 persons attended the meeting at School 4 to "test sentiment" on proposed construction of a new school in the downtown section and included in that number were members of the building committee of the Board of Education, teachers and principals from Schools 3 and 4 and the proposed architect.

Small Attendance
Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of Kingston city schools, today expressed "disappointment" at the size of the meeting. Some apathy to the proposal was indicated by the small attendance at the meeting, and Dr. Soper said today, "We're not entirely sure we know the general sentiment toward the school."

He indicated that any further plans depend on whether the State Department of Education would approve additions to Schools 3 and 4 in lieu of constructing a new building.

Will Ask State
Dr. Soper said he would seek information from the state department early next week on the alternative of additions to the present school buildings.

That decision, he said, would have an important bearing on any future plans. Among those attending last night's meeting were Dr. Soper; Robert S. MacDonald, administrative assistant to the Board of Education; Harold H. Darling, Chester A. Baltz, and George W. Schneider, members of the board's building committee; Augustus Schrowang, proposed architect; Miss Mary E. Polhemus, principal of School 3; Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh, principal of School 4; Alderman Samuel J. Perry and Supervisor James Fiore of the Fifth Ward.

Parents Who Voted
Only parents of pupils in Schools 3 and 4 balloted in the "straw vote," Dr. Soper said. Sketches by the architect of the proposed school and others of additions to the two present schools were presented.

Dr. Soper described the "drafts" as unofficial and said the draft of the proposed school is estimated to cost "in the neighborhood of $900,000." A second draft, he said, estimated the cost "at around $800,000."

Drafts of additions to each school, also unofficial, estimate the cost "at about $250,000 per addition."

Questionnaires Suggested
The proposed new school at Hasbrouck Park would include 23 classrooms and two kindergartens, he said, and would provide classroom space for kindergarten through sixth grade.

It also was suggested at the meeting that Dr. Soper mail questionnaires to parents of pupils in Schools 3 and 4 to determine their sentiments on the proposals.

The feasibility of additions to the two present schools also was discussed, but Dr. Soper indicated that would have to await action by the State Department of Education.

Space availability, and general construction of the two present schools also are considerations in any plans for additions, he said.

Concerned About Safety
Concern over the safety of smaller children, who have to face Delaware Avenue traffic in traveling to and from a school located in Hasbrouck Park, also (Continued on Page 7, Col. 7)

Six With Records
Utica's public safety commissioner, Boyd E. Golder, yesterday suspended six policemen whose own police records were disclosed Wednesday by the Legislature's watchdog committee in Albany.

The top-ranking member of the six was Capt. Chester Casaletta, night chief of detectives.

Earlier this month the police department's chief, Leo P. Miller, and its deputy chief, Vincent D. Fiore, left the force while under fire from the watchdog committee and the state's acting investigation commissioner, Arthur L. Reuter. Reuter and the committee have been conducting parallel probes of vice and gambling in the city.

Hearings Due Soon
Golder said the six men were suspended pending hearings on charges that would be preferred later. The hearings will be held within a few days, he said.

In addition to Casaletta, those suspended were:

Sgt. Bernard Gigliotti and Patrolmen Thomas Porter, Vincent E. Insigna, Joseph R. Sargese and James A. Del Nastro.

Listed Conviction
Under the law, the six will remain on the department payroll until specific charges are filed.

Golder testified before the watchdog committee Wednesday that Gigliotti had listed on his application to join the police, a conviction of owning a house of prostitution.

Khrushchev Faces Dilemma Despite His Farm Victory
By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev, Moscow announced last night, has put over his latest proposal for Soviet agriculture. But his victory may be temporary, a pale reflection of a deeper struggle agitating Communists in the Soviet Union and abroad.

From the dreary gobbledygook of Communist statements emerges an outline of party dissension over where Soviet socialism will go in the next decade. The conflict has important meaning for world peace.

Scraps of evidence indicate that Khrushchev is trying to fight Stalinism at home and to sustain it in the satellites. He reasserts Moscow's total mastery over world communism and all phases of Soviet and satellite life. But he also makes bright promises to the home folk, reminiscent of the nervous 1953 days after Stalin died. Strong popular pressure may be responsible.

A clue to the Khrushchev dilemma may be found in the Communist central committee's approval of Khrushchev's plan to "reorganize" the machine-tractor stations. These stations had the power to allocate or withhold machinery from collective farms and thus were a potent control weapon.

Area Floods Not Imminent, Rondout Is Rising Slowly

Advice Is Watch All Spending Forum Discusses Town Government

Taxpayers should be more concerned with the proper expenditures of tax monies than with the issue of high taxes, Attorney Norman Kellar, of New Paltz, counsel for the State Commission in Ulster County, told more than 75 persons at a forum on town government held Thursday evening in the Town of Ulster.

Attorney Kellar was a member of a panel which discussed "The General Functions of the Town Board—Its Nature and Extent of Its Powers" at Ulster Hose Co. No. 5.

Sponsored by Taxpayers
The meeting was sponsored by the Taxpayers and Voters Association of the Town of Ulster, Inc.

Other members of the panel were: Supervisor John J. Gaffney, Town of Lloyd, Democratic minority leader of the Board of Supervisors; Attorney Louis Francello, of Saugerties; Lewis Salkever, professor of economics, New Paltz State Teachers College, who served as moderator and Mrs. Tobie Geertsema, councilman of the Town Board of Woodstock.

Attorney Kellar, who discussed town development, traced the history of town government in various sections of the nation and its relationship to the ultimate form of town government.

Spending Check Important
He urged taxpayers to take a more active interest in the expenditure of their tax money at all levels of government. "This consideration, he said, should supersede opposition to the imposition of taxes."

Supervisor Gaffney described the role of a town supervisor as threefold—legislative, executive and fiscal.

He stressed the role of each supervisor as a member of the county legislative body of 33 members who shoulder the burden of administering county affairs.

Talks on Duties
Mrs. Geertsema outlined the town councilman's position as "watchdog" in the interest of the (Continued on Page 7, Col. 2)

East Producers Ask Benson to Talk Milk Rules
SYRACUSE (AP)—Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative wants to meet with U. S. Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson to talk over the various suggestions for regulating the milk supply in the northeast.

The cooperative's board of directors said yesterday in a resolution it wished "to determine if possible the philosophy of the Department of Agriculture with regard to either separate orders for northeastern markets or one or more regional orders."

A proposal to set up a separate order for Rhode Island to regulate the minimum price paid milk producers now is being considered by the department.

New York City, northern New Jersey and markets in a large section of Upstate New York already are under a single order.

Eastern said it had been suggested that the New York-New Jersey order be extended to cover Connecticut; the existing Boston order be extended to cover all of New England; the New York-New Jersey order be extended to Philadelphia and southern Jersey; or one major order be written for the entire northeast.

Eastern's president, J. Thomas Cribbs, signed the telegram requesting the meeting with Benson.

Trail Is Asked On 'Detective'; Taker of Survey
Police were asked last night to investigate a report that a man who claimed to be a plain-clothes policeman, visited a local home, and they were asked to check on another man who said he was conducting a survey on "young married couples."

A Stuyvesant Street resident reported at 9:10 p. m., that a man, apparently about 28 years old, wearing a black suit, white shirt and no hat, came to his apartment, flashed a card, and said he came to investigate reports of too much noise in the apartment. He also indicated he was interested in a complaint as to the parking of a car.

The report indicated that no one of the description was found in the area.

A report earlier last night from the Wilson Avenue area said a man on Wednesday was visiting houses in the area, claiming that he was conducting a survey on young married couples. A short time later patrolmen brought an Albany man to headquarters, and he said he was working on the survey. He was advised to register as a canvasser, or discontinue the survey.

The report on the man who had stopped at the Stuyvesant Street home, said that he stuttered.

Olive Town Highways Boss Quits as Jury Looks Into Kickbacks
One town superintendent of highways, Howard Trowbridge of Olive Bridge, town of Olive, submitted his resignation Thursday shortly after testifying before the grand jury which is delving into charges of "kickbacks" from certain road oil companies.

A former town superintendent of highways of the town of Marlborough, Peter Troncillo, declined to sign a waiver of immunity and give testimony before the grand jury.

Might Be More
The investigation by the grand jury continued today and it was intimated that there might be further resignations as the probe progressed.

Scheduled to appear today for questioning were officials of an "out of county" road oil concern which it was unofficially reported was a Westchester County company.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John said Thursday afternoon that other "town officials" probably would be before the grand jury today as well as certain "other individuals."

To Query Other Firms
Road oil concerns in Ulster County as well as in adjacent counties are under investigation to determine to what extent they may be involved in the "kickback" allegations.

The present investigation of alleged "kickbacks" from road oil companies has been under way for the past couple of months, St. John said. His office began an investigation after Harry Thayer, Ellenville village trustee and newspaper publisher, reported he had been offered a cent a gallon "kick-back" if he would throw the village business to the firm.

Testifies Several Times
Thayer later said he "threw them out of my office." At that time it was stated the company involved was not an Ulster County concern.

St. John said Thayer had testified "several times" before the grand jury.

The present county-wide investigation began some weeks ago when it was reported a "spot check" was being made by bringing in town superintendents of highways and other persons to inquire into allegations that "kickbacks" had been offered to Ulster County officials. At that time it was pointed out that persons summoned and questioned were not of necessity involved in any "kickbacks" but were being questioned to ascertain what, if anything they knew about such a practice.

To Exchange Ideas
The officers were elected at an organizational meeting of the Hudson Valley-Westchester Chapter of NAHRO.

Yosman explained that the purpose of the organization is "to correlate and exchange ideas" to determine if present housing and redevelopment machinery is workable "and to suggest improvements to expedite the program."

NAHRO covers planning, housing and urban renewal, and the national organization includes groups in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

Ask U. S. to Pay More
Yosman noted that NAHRO recently suggested to a congressional committee that financing of urban renewal should include payment by the federal government of 90 per cent of the cost and the remaining ten per cent by each municipality.

The federal government presently pays two-thirds of the cost and the municipality pays one-third, Yosman said, indicating that the proposed formula would be similar to financing of the national highway program.

He said the Eisenhower administration has recommended to Congress that the proposed figure be reduced to as low as a (Continued on Page 7, Col. 3)

Accused Killer Of Deputy Slain

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—West Texas peace officers moved down the accused killer of a deputy sheriff before he could pull the trigger on his cocked pistol last night.

Sheriff Lem Gabriel said the slain suspect was G. F. (Jack) McMichael, 36, an ex-convict sought in a two-state manhunt. Deputy Thad West, 40, was shot without warning yesterday morning while checking a baby selling report.

Gabriel said McMichael was found at the home of a girl friend. Officers surrounded the house just before midnight.

The sheriff said McMichael came to the front door with a pistol in his hand, then dashed for the back door after spotting the deputies outside.

"We shouted for him to halt," the sheriff said, "and he whirled and cocked his pistol."

Several officers fired about the same time and McMichael fell without shooting.

The manhunt spread as far as Hobbs, N. M., yesterday after McMichael fled the scene of the early morning shooting.

Noted novelist Zane Gray was borne in Zanesville, Ohio.

Dodges Draft Over Fear of Needle

DETROIT (AP)—It wasn't the bullets that bothered Frank Mallia, 21, told Federal Judge Frank A. Picard yesterday that he never registered for the draft because he was afraid of getting shot—in the arm.

He said he had received shots for typhoid fever as a boy in Malta.

"I just never got over it," he said, "everytime I see a doctor with a needle I faint."

After Mallia promised to register Friday, Judge Picard adjourned his case for 30 days and released him on $1,000 personal bond.

CLIFTON, N. J. (AP)—Chivalry died with the sputtering engine of a get-away car last night.

A thief who came sprinting out of Johnny's Service Station with $10 ran right past his female accomplice when he realized she couldn't get the car started.

Left to her own devices, however, the lady bandit finally got the car going.

Police now are looking for both of the bandits. They hope to find the man before his girl friend does.

Canandaigua Hotel Closes After Blaze

CANANDAIGUA (AP)—A 108-year-old hotel in the downtown section of this Finger Lakes city was shut today after a fire that caused an estimated $200,000 damage.

A blaze that started in a false ceiling, between the attic and roof of the Treadway Inn, formerly the Hotel Canandaigua, burned for two and a half hours yesterday.

Flames were confined to the roof area. No one was hurt.

Firemen said the blaze was probably caused by a short circuit.

Before the fire was put out, tons of water seeped through the ceilings and poured down stairwells in the five-story brick and frame building.

Police said that about 100 guests who were in the inn when the fire was discovered got out with no difficulty. They were moved to other hotels.

(Editor's note: Twenty-five outlying school districts will vote March 5 for or against consolidation with Kingston. The rural consolidation committee has prepared a series of articles explaining what it would mean to the rural districts. This is the 12th in the series, discussing how rural teachers would benefit under consolidation.)

Some of the teachers now employed in our rural school districts have served us faithfully and well for many years. Questions are often asked regarding the future of these teachers under consolidation. Will they continue to teach or will they be required to leave this area and look for new jobs elsewhere?

Will Continue to Work

The answer is definite. All qualified teachers now employed by any of the districts which consolidate with Kingston will continue to work for the new district if they so desire.

When the existing unsatisfactory schools are closed it will, of course, become necessary for the teachers to move to the new schools. In most cases these teachers will move to the same schools which their old pupils will attend. In some cases, a teacher for personal reasons may request to be transferred to a school in another part of the district. This request would probably be granted, but there is no reason to anticipate any wholesale transferring of teachers among the schools.

Teachers to Benefit

The teachers will benefit in many ways from this change. Although the salaries now paid in the rural districts vary from poor to quite good, under consolidation all teachers would be placed on a single salary schedule which would provide a base salary as good as any now paid. Additional benefits such as tenure rights, sick leave, and group hospitalization insurance would be available. Tenure rights or credit toward them, which already exist, would be recognized under consolidation.

Furthermore, the shortage of teachers, plus the increased need to better educate our children, assures all our teachers of secure jobs.

Rodent Having Ball

Pesky Rat Holds Up Departure of 44-Seat Airliner

CHICAGO (AP)—A tricky rat that has grounded a 44-passenger airliner at Midway Airport since Tuesday had officials of United Air Lines up in the air today on how to catch the sneaky rodent.

The rat, named Rudolph, has upset the best efforts of mechanics and an exterminator to get him out of the fuselage. He has stolen cheese set out to bait him and has avoided all other traps.

Won't Leave Ground

"This Convair will not leave the ground until he is captured," said a UAL spokesman.

Mechanics at the UAL maintenance area at the airport think Rudolph is having a ball dodging in and out of hiding places provided by the fuselage framework.

"He's not in the passenger compartment proper," said a spokesman. "We could probably poison him, but then it might mean taking the whole plane apart finding him after he died."

Charles W. O'Hare, a professional exterminator called in to catch Rudolph, got a permit yesterday to use a special .22 caliber target pistol which fires scatter shot. O'Hare said the shot wouldn't damage the fuselage.

But the UAL spokesman said that O'Hare's search for the rat might have to be carried out without a single shot being fired.

"We're not so sure of that fuselage business," he said.

Mechanics, who along with other maintenance crew personnel have made up the hunting party since discovery of Rudolph's presence, vowed to keep up the search. They named the rat Rudolph.

Could Be a Rosie

O'Hare said maybe Rudolph will turn out to be Rosie—there was no way of knowing.

No one knows for sure how Rudolph (or Rosie) got aboard, but the best guess is that he climbed up when the passenger steps were left down while the $500,000 twin-engine plane was being serviced.

But Rudolph's point of origin makes a lot of difference to the Chicago Board of Health which planned an investigation. Dr. F. L. Andelman of the board indicated that if Rudolph is a local rat the whole matter will be dropped. But if Rudolph is an out-of-town rat that means that he could "theoretically" bring in some disease.

Ike Will Sound GOP Keynote for Congress Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will "sound the keynote" for the Republican congressional election campaign in a speech May 6.

Announcing this yesterday, the Republican national chairman, Meade Alcorn said Eisenhower will speak to a party dinner here. The half hour speech will be telecast nationally by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

CBS last Saturday carried as a public service former President Truman's speech to a Democratic fund-raising dinner. A spokesman for the Republican National Committee said the time CBS is giving Eisenhower could be regarded as offsetting the half hour Truman used.

OPTIMISTIC FORECAST

With economic levels in the United States still receding, a forecast of great business expansion sounds a welcome tune, even though it deals with the long and not the short range prospect.

Such a prophecy has been made by the Committee for Economic Development, one of the ablest and most thoughtful economic research groups in the nation. Some 150 business executives and scholars help to frame CED's recommendations.

The CED predicts that by 1975 the average income of U.S. families after taxes will come to at least $7,100, as against $5,300 today. The total gross national product, sum of all our goods and services, should rise to 725 billion dollars a year from the present level of in excess of 415 billion.

What this means is that in the next 17 years American families on the average will ADD to their disposable income an amount exceeding what they spend today on two basic items—food and clothing.

True to its thoughtful form, however, the CED points out in its recent study of the economy that the looked-for expansion is not an automatic thing, not an advantage we can have without lifting a finger.

Says the CED: "Only if we manage our economic affairs with intelligence can we expect such a 'good life' on the material side, shared among the entire population."

Millions of daily private decisions are the key, it adds. As all of us stand to benefit from so great an enlargement of the economy, so all of us are required to contribute. It matters not whether our share is large or small. What does count is that we make wise and energetic effort.

What do we need to foster the immense growth foreseen by these specialists? In their view:

A higher level of business management, continuous investment to provide the financial underpinning of expanding enterprise, individual savings to support that investment, more education and development of skills to fit the nations' manpower for the greater tasks ahead, better people in government, and fuller public understanding of government activities.

A large order, obviously. But the men in CED, like many in America, have confidence that the people of this country, by their combined wisdom and effort, can fill it and make this bright vision of 1975 come true.

NOT IN A VACUUM

Some people in this country still seem to think that our economy operates in a kind of vacuum. A good way to kill that false notion is to note how closely the economists of Europe are watching the current American business recession. Many of them fear that, unless the U. S. economy recovers swiftly, present downturns in European economic activity will sag into full-scale recession.

Europe's economy has been booming for several years past. Now it seems to be stagnating somewhat. There is good reason to believe that if the United States is slow about getting back into full economic swing the European stagnation will grow. That might, in turn, slow down U. S. recovery even further.

What it all adds up to is that very much more than the mere convenience and comfort of Americans hinges on how swiftly our economy bounces back to normal.

POSITIVELY HYPNOTIC

Three young teen-age girls in a Midwestern city were fooling around with hypnotism the other evening, just for the fun of it. Their fun came close enough to tragedy to give them the scare of their lives.

It was all amusing until one of the girls, put into a trance, stayed that way even after the amateur hypnotist had commanded her repeatedly to awaken. When frantic efforts to break the hypnotic spell failed, the two other girls called for help. Finally, after two hours in a trance, the

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
IT STARTED IN 1946

It is impossible intelligently to read the testimony of Robert E. Gross, chairman of the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, before the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, because most of it has been deleted. Nevertheless, one catches a word here and there. And the most important one is 1946.

For apparently it was in the year 1946 that this project was conceived. Lockheed subsequently went into various new weapons projects on a limited basis. How one engages in such an enterprise on a limited basis, it is difficult to say.

Most Americans assume that the United States got into the Sputnik business after we discovered that the Russians were beating us to the punch, but here we discover that the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation has been in the enterprise for at least 12 years. L. Eugene Root, a Lockheed vice president, testified:

"... It remains to give this program a complete authorization and centralized and go on it, taking advantage of this work that has been going on since 1946. We have a tremendous group of subcontractors and associate contractors on this thing that number up into the fifties."

One needs to be a detective to piece together all the quarrels in the Pentagon, during the 12 years since 1946, among the Army, Navy and Air Force over which department will produce the Sputnik. For the Lockheed people produced a contract at the committee hearing, and Senator Stennis wanted to know what the red lines in the contract meant. And it turned out that the red lines indicated cancellations and changes.

R. A. Bailey of Lockheed said: "The contract which was cancelled was a new airplane and new system, a new electronics system. It was an entirely new airplane and system."

"Senator Stennis. Was that to be used in connection with the early warning plan?"

"Mr. Bailey. Yes, sir."

"Early warning and control. It was to be used by the Navy in early warning, and for the Air Force in the contiguous areas."

I have no idea what all this means and I give it to you only as an example of the monkey business which has been going on for 12 years among the departments. During that time, the Russians made Sputniks which they succeeded in orbiting. This situation has, for some reason, not yet been corrected and although President Eisenhower has, on at least three occasions, indicated that a centralized system of control of the new scientific weapons was being established, naming the person who would have authority, there is no indication that the separatism of the three services is less today than it was when James Forrestal failed to make the Department of Defense a unified administration.

The real trouble seems to be that there is a lack of money to do the job right, but it is not understandable why there should be a lack of money with the huge amounts that the United States is spending on national defense, except that so much is being spent on obsolete military activities and too little remains for the modernization of our weapons. Senator Stuart Symington brought this issue to a head when he asked Bailey: "... from the standpoint of the committee's record, we want to be sure that there is no technical disagreement as to whether this is the best way to do it, or we can afford to have it later, or something of that character. It is just a direct lack of money, is that right?"

To this Bailey replied:

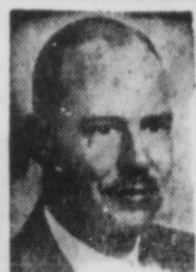

"I know of no technical disagreement between us."

In a word, an early warning system and a new airplane system, both declared to be essential, are held up for 12 years, because adequate appropriations are not made.

The Russians approach their problems much as the United States did between the end of the Civil War and the end of Theodore Roosevelt's Administration. It was an era of push and go. The entrepreneurs did not worry about precedents and traditions; they moved ahead in every direction.

We are now suffering from three social diseases: one is bureaucracy both in government and in business; another is the socialistic characteristics, unwitting perhaps, of a management which is unrelated to ownership; another is an orthodox stuffed-shirtism which appears in both government and business, which rejects aggressiveness and controversy.

Faulty Mufflers, Traffic Fumes
Are Hazards in Winter Driving

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Instead of asking a question, a recent correspondent, Mr. B., has made some interesting safety suggestions.

He first mentions leaky mufflers and says that as cars get older the outer shell develops small holes from rust, and if all the windows are closed, carbon monoxide gas tends to work up into the body without the knowledge of the occupants. When he found this out he had a new muffler put on his car at once.

He also says that on many cars, particularly older models, the air for the heater is drawn in at the front end directly behind the grill and passes through into the interior. In bumper-to-bumper traffic this might mean that monoxide gas from the exhaust of the car ahead is picked up by the car following.

In this case, shutting the air intake and opening a window occasionally is highly advisable.

Here I think is an important health question: Q—If I have a heart checkup once a year is there any danger of having a coronary thrombosis between checkups?—B. A.

A—Unfortunately, it is not usually possible to anticipate a coronary occlusion or heart attack. This does not mean that you should not have a heart checkup, but an examination will not guarantee that you cannot have a coronary thrombosis. Our diagnostic measures are simply not good enough yet in this respect.

Q—Would you please say something about the effects of a hysterectomy on marital happiness.—Mrs. L.

A—Ordinarily, a hysterectomy involves removal of the womb only, leaving the other female organs in place. Following such an operation menstruation, of course, ceases and conception is no longer possible, but marital happiness should not be unfavorably affected. Indeed, in many cases the removal of fear of undesired pregnancy often improves, rather than harms, the satisfaction from marital relations.

Q—For some time now my mother, who is over 90, has been troubled with dryness of the mouth. Is there anything which can be done to relieve her?—Mrs. T.

A—This is a common complaint of older people and is probably the result of lessened secretion from the salivary glands. The uncomfortable sensations which your mother has might be lessened by the frequent use of appropriate mouth washes, preferably obtained through her physician.

hypnotized girl snapped out of it.

This sort of story is not as uncommon as one might wish. Such incidents happen now and then because some people think of hypnotism as a sort of parlor game. The moral of the story is that it is no such thing. Hypnotism is for experts.

Some Spot in an Electrical Storm

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Brij Kumar Nehru — a cousin of India's prime minister — has made a most favorable impression here in negotiations with U. S. Export-Import Bank and International Loan Fund officials for a 225-million-dollar loan on 75 specific projects.

In a large measure, he has offset some of the unfavorable impressions of India created by V. K. Krishna Menon at the U. N.

Mr. Nehru, 49, is secretary for Economic Affairs in India's Ministry of Finance. He is an old hand in Washington, having been executive director of the World Bank for five years.

He is a graduate of London School of Economics, Balliol College, Oxford and the Inner Temple bar. He came up in government through Indian Civil Service and has represented India at half a dozen international economic and financial conferences.

This is the type of young official on which the future of the Indian government depends.

B. K. Nehru admits with disarming frankness, "I am here in search of money—as much as I can get."

Secretary Nehru makes clear, however, that India does not like charity. It wants loans. And it prefers long-term loans from the U. S. government to short-term loans from Russia or any other government, even though U. S. interest rates are higher.

Indian today has two Russian loans for a total of 285 million dollars at 2.5 per cent interest for 12 years.

U. S. aid to India up to Jan. 1 has totaled close to a billion dollars. This includes 60 million dollars' worth of U. S. farm surpluses which have been sold for Indian rupees.

Mr. Nehru disagrees with the opinion held by some of his countrymen that the United States has an obligation to aid India and that India has any right to demand such aid.

He points out, however, that it is of interest to the world community to see that underdeveloped countries advance.

The hostile attitude of many Indians to the United States is difficult to explain, Mr. Nehru declares.

ONE TROUBLE, he thinks, is that Americans are confused with Englishmen by many Indians whose horizon for so many years was limited to hatred of the old British empire.

What hurt Americans most in India is that they are associated with such things as French colonialism in Algiers.

The big problem in India today is how to achieve its development in the shortest possible time, says Mr. Nehru. India's leaders recognize that more rapid development may be achieved by a totalitarian government than by a democracy.

At the same time they recognize the advantage that a democracy has in giving higher priority to the physical well-being of its individual citizens. India's government believes in this latter course, says Mr. Nehru. But it is faced with the problem of a country whose standards of living are so low that its people can hardly be called human beings.

For this reason India must divert some of its capital from betterment of its citizens to get its industrial material development started. The problem is to do this without killing off a lot of its people, as Russia did after its revolution.

THIS IS WHY India imports food, to keep its millions from starvation while developing new industries at the same time.

Mr. Nehru disavows Indian intentions to nationalize all its business enterprises. A contrary belief has made U. S. capital hesitant to invest in India and slowed loans to India.

The socialism to which the Indian government has been committed by Prime Minister Nehru is not Marxism and is not communism, says the economic minister. It is more like the socialism of a welfare state—like Britain. It gives highest priority to the dignity of the individual, as in American democracy.

These are the conditions which President Eisenhower describes in his new foreign aid message to Congress, in which he says that, "if free institutions are to survive in the underdeveloped countries, they must have external help."

Q—In those U. S. states officially called commonwealths, is there any difference in the governmental status?

A—The difference is simply a matter of terminology.

Q—What is the meaning of the expression "To be in the arms of Morpheus"?

A—It means to be asleep. Morpheus was the god of dreams in Greek mythology.

Q—Is cottage cheese rich in protein?

A—The protein content of one pound of cottage cheese is about the same as that of one pound of beefsteak.

Q—When were the Stars and Stripes first raised as the standard of American troops?

A—It is said to have been at the Battle of Cooch's Bridge near Newark, Delaware, in 1777.

Legal Problems Foreseen In a 'Temporary' President

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower may write letters to the Vice-President telling him not to be embarrassed in taking over Presidential duties in any contingency if Mr. Eisenhower should become incapacitated — but this does not make the subsequent acts of the Vice-President legal as Presidential acts.

For the truth is that the Constitution does not explicitly provide what to do in the case of the temporary "inability" of the President to discharge the duties of his office. Hence, even an act of Congress seeking to specify what to be followed would have to be passed upon by the Supreme Court of the United States. Anything the new President might do in the interim would be of doubtful legality, and serious questions could continue to be raised for a long period of time, perhaps years, as to the true effectiveness of certain public acts involving property rights.

Congress thus far has not been given any power by the Constitution to determine when a President is temporarily disabled or when he is well enough to resume his duties. The Constitution merely provides for action by Congress only when both a President and a Vice-President have been disabled. The text of the article reads as follows:

"In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability, both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a President shall be elected."

Amendment Possible
There is no reason, of course, why a constitutional amendment cannot be adopted which would give Congress the right to pass a law determining who shall succeed a President in the case of temporary "inability." But, unfortunately, the present Constitution does not give Congress that power.

Speaker Rayburn has just put his finger on this very weakness when he says that it may be all right for the President to write a letter telling the Vice-President when to take over his duties, but he should not be President takes the oath as President of the United States, he becomes the chief executive and, under the existing setup, cannot give it back to the once disabled President.

The whole controversy turns on what is really meant by the clause "inability to discharge the powers and duties" of the Presidency. What does the word "inability" cover? Is it solely "physical inability" or does it include "mental inability," and could it conceivably mean "political inability," too?

The latest Webster's dictionary defines "inability" as "not able." The word "able" includes competency, and this enters the domain of efficiency, which, to be sure, would require the exercise of a political judgment by somebody. Even if the power were given Congress by a new constitutional amendment, the fine circumstances under which a President may be declared to be unable to continue "to discharge the powers and duties" of his office, it would still remain a question of what shall be done if, for example, a President has a serious stroke and some doubt then arises as to his mental capacity.

Wilson Stroke Recalled

When President Woodrow Wilson suffered a severe stroke in the autumn of 1919, the Republican members of Congress questioned his ability to continue to serve. But Vice-President Marshall did not want to take the initiative and perform any of the duties of the Presidency. Indeed, Secretary of State Robert Lansing was rebuked and forced out of the Cabinet by Mr. Wilson when he recovered sufficiently to find out what went on during his illness. It is to avoid such an embarrassment that President Eisenhower has written out in advance his instructions to Vice-President Nixon as to what he should do if Mr. Eisenhower's physicians say he is unable "to discharge the powers and duties" of the Presidency.

While this would make it easier for Mr. Nixon personally to take over the Presidential duties, the existence of such a letter does not solve the constitutional or legal problems involved. Mr. Eisenhower himself favors the adoption of a constitutional amendment to clarify the situation.

In Britain, Canada and other countries with the parliamentary system, no such legal difficulties arise. For the majority in the national Parliament determines at any moment whether the Prime Minister shall be retained in office, and they judge not only his physical and mental fitness but his political fitness as well. Also, the people can remove the Parliament in an election and restore an ousted Prime Minister or confirm the choice of a new one—and this can be done at almost any time a majority wants it done. It's a flexible, all-inclusive and commonsense system, but it would take a constitutional amendment to give America the benefit of such a democratic solution.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—There was nothing at all mysterious about the experience of Mr. and Mrs. James Hermann and their children of 1648 Redwood Path, Seaford, L. I., who, ever since the night of Feb. 3, have been startled by unusual happenings in their home, to wit:

Vessels containing perfume, paint, turpentine, cough medicine, ammonia and even holy water, have popped their corks and danced and hopped all over the place.

These manifestations plainly are impudent acts of witchcraft done by leering offenders who are protected from suspicion by our supercilious intellectual affectation that their evil art is an exploded myth of a dark age in Salem, Mass. Nobody ever has proved that witchcraft is a myth or that Abigail Frohisher, a widow, who was hanged at the age of 84 at Little Wycombe on May 27, 1659, for making a kettle jump off the hob and chase a cat up a chimney, was a victim of public ignorance.

If Americans put faith in the courts, then Abe Powell, of Salem was guilty of witchcraft and was lucky that the colonial government did not hang him as it had hanged Mrs. Frohisher in that jurisdiction in that time.

Powell's guilt is not diluted by the fact that he was let off, under formal suspicion, upon payment of "charges," amount not stated. The trial is reported fully in the record of the quarterly courts of Massachusetts. The date was Dec. 3, 1679.

The record says as how: "Powell was complained of in the Ipswich Court for suspicion of working with the devil to the molesting of William Morse and his family. Sarah Halle and Joseph Mirick affirmed that John Moores, boatswain of the vessel in which Powell was mate, had often said that if there were any wizards, he was sure Powell was one. He said this in their house, Sworn, Feb. 27, 1679 before Jo. Woodbridge, com'r."

"Morse and wife, both aged about 56, testified that Thurs. night, 27th of Nov. we heard a great noise without, against the house. Self and wife looked out and saw nobody but had stones and sticks thrown at us and were forced to retire into the house and went to bed. Then the noise was up on the roof."

"About midnight, the door being locked, we heard a great hog in the house, grunting, and I rose and I found a hog in the house and the door unlocked and the door was firmly locked when we went to bed. The night following I had a great lying on the window, the which awle

"Again a tub, its hoop fly off of itself and nobc:ly near. My wife making the bed, the chest did open and shut and the bed clothes could not be made to lie on the bed but fly off again."

"Mr. Richardson testified that a board fell against his chair and he heard a noise which he supposed in all reason to be diabolical. Elizabeth Titcombe affirmed that Powell said he could find the witch. Jno. Emerson said Powell said he was brought up under Norwood and it was judged by the people that Norwood studied the black art."

"William Morse testified 'Caleb Powell said he had an understanding of astrology and astronomy and knew the workings of the spirits. My cap taken almost off my head 3 times and my Catt was thrown at my wife. We put the catt out the door and shut the door. Presently the catt was thrown into the house. We went to bed, suddenly the catt again was thrown at us three times and a red waistcoat thrown on the bed and the catt wrapped up in it."

In his defense, the accused Powell offered Mrs. Tucker, aged about 20 yrs., who deposed that Powell told her he went by Morse's house and saw through the window the old man at prayer and saw a boy fling a shoe at Morse's head. A likely story! But her unsupported word was naught against overwhelming proof so Powell was assessed the costs according to the law of the land and was lucky to get off with his life.

Thor Launched, New Cone Nose

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An Air Force Thor missile roared toward space today carrying a new more stubby nose cone to protect its earthward plunge on target.

The 1,500-mile range missile—destined for installation in Europe within a year—left its launching pad at 8:08 a. m.

It climbed slowly at first in an enormous billow of flame and smoke and then moved quickly upward, trailing brilliant yellow flames behind it.

The Air Force would say only: "The nose cone used in today's test differed from those previously used."

It was believed that the last Thor launching Jan. 28 was the first time a nose cone had been tested in flight with the entire vehicle.

The nose cone is designed and manufactured by General Electric, which also makes cone noses for the Thor's Atlas, and the Navy's 1,500 mile Polaris missile.

Central Speeds Up Catskill Mt. Runs After Plow Mishap

Operations on the Catskill Mountain branch of the New York Central were speeded up this week to make up for ship-mishap delays caused by a snow-plow mishap and derailment at South Glens Falls several days ago, it was learned today.

A snow-plow, clearing the right-of-way, after the recent heavy snow, was dumped, during its operation between Grand Gorge and Stamford, and one of two engines pushing it went off the track.

Freight Held Up
This delayed plowing operations which were resumed full-scale during the week, and it held up shipments of freight on the line.

This week, however, to make up for lost time, freight trains, averaging 40 cars each, have been on schedule daily, carrying mostly feed and grain to the dairy farm sections between Kingston and Oneonta.

Snow, as has happened in many past years, was deepest on the line between Grand Gorge and Stamford. Trains in the Oneonta Star Feb. 25 showed drifted snow, 12 feet high or more. One scene showed a tunnel, 22 feet long, leading from Route 23 to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lornie Lee, in the Stamford area. It was six feet high.

Another Loose Plow
Another report, in the area, this week, noted that a Lehigh Valley Railroad snow plow broke loose from its engine at Perryville, and raced over 10 miles of track, with the engine in pursuit before it overturned in the railroad yards at Canastota.

Michael Stack, 70, of Cortland, conductor, rode the plow about five miles to Cotton's Corners, and jumped into a snow bank. He suffered a shoulder fracture.

Nicholas Uaconzone, 57, of Cortland, stayed with the plow all the way and when it overturned, he suffered first degree burns of the hands and chin.

Olive Town . . .

town superintendents of highways," St. John said.

The investigation was continued for some two months St. John said before being submitted to the grand jury on Thursday.

Former Town Superintendent of Highways Peter Tronclillo of the town of Marlborough declined to sign a waiver Thursday and testify, St. John said. Since he is not a public official and does not come under the statute which requires a public official to sign a waiver and testify under penalty of being removed from his position, he could not be compelled to testify, it was pointed out.

Action Based on Testimony

District Attorney St. John said he had requested the resignation of Town of Olive Superintendent of Highways Howard Torrance based on the testimony he gave before the grand jury. "The resignation would be forwarded to the 'proper' authorities for action, he stated.

The resignation will be turned over to Lester Davis, supervisor of the town of Olive, he indicated.

When the grand jury resumed its session this morning the examination of witnesses was conducted by Assistant District Attorney John Larkin.

Conferring With Reuter
Both District Attorney St. John and Assistant Joseph Torrance were reported to have gone to New York to confer further with Acting Commissioner of Investigations Arthur L. Reuter.

Torrance paid a visit last week to the Reuter office in New York, but was not under subpoena at that time.

Driver Is Hurt In Ulster Crash

Robert Southard, 33, of 83 Roosevelt Avenue, was injured slightly Thursday evening when his car was in collision with another operated by Miss Patricia Ann Carl, 20, of 12 Wrentham Street, Kingston, State Police reported.

Troopers said Southard who suffered a laceration of the chin and right thumb was to be treated by his own physician.

The report said Southard was driving his 1957 station wagon east on Boice's Lane near Morton Boulevard, Town of Ulster.

Miss Carl, driving a 1955 sedan, was turning left from Morton Boulevard into Boice's Lane, when the left fronts ends of the two vehicles collided, troopers reported.

Southard received emergency first aid treatment at the Kingston IBM Plant, located nearby.

Time of the mishap was set at 8:05 p. m.

Morrison Case Is Off Till March

The case of Clyde Morrison, 36, self-styled cowboy being held on a charge of cruelty to animals, was adjourned until Thursday, March 6, before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly, Town of Ulster, Thursday.

Whittles Switch To Punish Son, Cleric Shot Dead

LAS CRUCES, N. M. (AP) — A Baptist minister, whittling a switch to punish his twin 14-year-old sons, was shot to death by one of them yesterday in front of his rectory.

The Rev. Leonard Boyett was shot once in the back with a .38 caliber revolver held by his son, John, after the pastor called the boy to come to punishment.

Resented Discipline

Friends of the family told police the boys and their father hadn't gotten along recently, that the boys resented the strict discipline at home and planned to run away. To that end, the boys stole the death weapon to "hunt rabbits" in their romantic plans to run away and hide at a nearby lake. One of the twins also stole $30.10 from a family cookie jar cache to finance the trip.

Boyette discovered the loss. He picked the twins up at school yesterday and drove them home. He stood on the front stoop whittling the three-foot, pencil-thin switch. Then he called, "John, come here."

John, standing in the front room with his sister, Carolyn, 17, watching, lifted the revolver and fired through the screen door.

Both in Custody

Both John and his twin brother, Jack, were in the custody of juvenile authorities. A juvenile court hearing will decide whether John will be tried as an adult or juvenile.

Jack was held as a witness "and because he wanted to stay with his brother," defense attorney J. Benson Newell said. As the two boys were led to the police cruiser past the body of their father, Jack turned to his sobbing brother.

"John," he said, "you stop crying. Pray for dad."

The watchdog committee said Casaletta had been arrested on a disorderly conduct charge in 1926 and drew a suspended sentence; a first-degree grand larceny charge in 1928 that was withdrawn with the district attorney's consent, and a non-support proceeding in 1937 that was dismissed without prosecution.

What Records Show

Department records also showed Insigna was arrested at Schenectady on a charge of transporting a gambling device. The disposition of the charge was not indicated.

Saggese was charged with third-degree assault in May, 1957, and with operating a motor vehicle without a license last November. Both charges were dismissed.

Del Nastro was charged with third-degree assault in September, 1952. The charge later was dismissed.

Porter was arrested on a rape charge in December 1934. The charge later was reduced to assault. The disposition of the case was not determined.

FORUM PRINCIPALS — Panelists at the town government forum sponsored by Taxpayers and Voters Association of the Town of Ulster Thursday night at Aiello's Restaurant, West Chester Street by-pass were: (L-R) Seated, Attorney Louis P. Francello of Saugerties, Attorney Norman Kellar of New Paltz; Mrs. Tobie Geertsema, councilman of Woodstock Town people. She described a councilman's role as a "hearing aid" to learn the sentiments of the taxpayer and to act in their interest.

Attorney Francello discussed the town attorney's participation in government and his counsel to town officials.

Salkever reviewed the economics of town government, including property taxes, assessments, etc., and stressed the important and responsibility of the assessor.

He stressed that a taxpayer should be assessed on the basis of his ability to pay rather than true value of the property or based on an equalization rate.

Exchange Opinions

The forum exchanged opinions on a series of questions which included public refuse, factors determining referendums, public hearings, the supervisor's jurisdiction over appointed and elected officials.

The panel indicated that it is the obligation of each town board member to vote on an issue which comes before it and to abstain from voting is a failure of his responsibility.

Forum members also indicated that in a township which does not provide municipal refuse collection that a private carrier should pay a fee for his use of a municipal dump "to help cover the cost of maintenance," in the interest of relieving the tax burden.

It also was suggested that a license could be issued in such cases to private carriers.

No Need for Caucuses

The panel also expressed an opinion on the question of pre-session "caucus" or "dress rehearsal" for a town board meeting.

It was agreed by panel members that there should be no need for such a session.

It also was indicated that taxpayers have recourse to the courts when a controversial petition, favored by a majority, is disregarded by a town board.

Carmine Sabino, Lake Katrine, was elected president to fill the unexpired term of Hubert Brink.

Edward Cruger, Forest Glen Park, was elected vice president.

Boy Fails in Bid To Avoid Hospital

A 10-year-old downtown boy, who became panicky, after a doctor told him that he had pneumonia, didn't worry about future exposure to outside winter weather last night, in his apparent attempt to avoid a trip to a hospital.

Police were notified at 7:40 p. m., that the boy "took off in his undershirt," after he was told of his illness and was advised that he must go to the hospital.

Officers Louis Sapp and Donald Genther were dispatched to search for the boy after he had left his East Strand home. They found him near the railroad tracks in the vicinity of the Buck scrap metal plant, and he was taken to Kingston Hospital. His condition was reported as "fair" today.

Two Youths Are Held For Petit Larceny

Two 16-year-old youths were arrested Thursday afternoon by the Ulster County Sheriff's Office on charges of petit larceny.

A third youth, 15 years old, arrested with them was turned over to Children's Court.

Arrested were John Karl Ruebel, of Codwise Street, Sunset Park, Town of Ulster, and James Anthony Fuoco Jr. of 195 Ten Brock Avenue.

The three youths were arrested by Clayton W. Vredenburg and County Investigator Arthur H. Brown.

County Investigator Brown said the petit larceny charges involved the thefts from a gasoline station in the Town of Esopus over a period of six months. Ruebel and Fuoco were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie, Town of Esopus, and released in $50 bail each for a hearing March 5 at 5:30 p. m.

noon today that in view of the cold weather and the condition of the area water sheds at present that flooding did not appear likely unless the rain continued unabated for several more hours.

Statewide, teeming rains and tidal flooding hit the northeast today on the wings of a hard driving storm of near gale force, the Associated Press in New York reported.

The AP report said: Some families were evacuated from their homes along the Connecticut shoreline. A number of coastal roads were flooded.

Ordinarily placid streams turned into torrents. Weather forecasters warned against possible flooding along their banks.

3.03 in Gotham

New York City had more than three inches of rain in the past 24 hours. The reading of 3.03 inches compared with an average of 3.13 inches for the whole month of February.

The downpour accompanied by rising temperatures came just as the area was recovering from a heavy snow and a protracted cold wave. Rapidly melting snow added to the flood dangers.

The area generally was the same which suffered heavy floods under the impact of hurricane rains in August and October of 1955.

A number of automobiles were stalled on water-covered highways.

Rivers and streams in eastern New York inched upward under the unseasonable rainfall but the Albany Weather Bureau said it expected no major flooding.

Minor overflow seen

The bureau said in a river bulletin that "no appreciable rise is expected on the Mohawk and Hudson rivers or their major tributaries."

Minor overflow was foreseen along the Rondout Creek and the Wallkill Rivers in southeastern counties, where the rain was the heaviest.

The forecast was for intermittent light rain into tomorrow but the Weather Bureau said it did not expect enough to bring any flood threat.

The western section of the state had a smaller rainfall and the forecast there was for occasional rain that could turn into light snow.

Cars Are Stalled

There was some tidal flooding on the south shore of Long Island. It eased as the tide went out.

Cars stalled in water-filled streets in Queens. The Grand Central Parkway, a major artery in Queens, was closed for two hours.

Rainfall totaled 2.15 inches at Tannersville, in the Catskills. Other totals: Newburgh, 1.87; Rosendale, Ulster County, 1.80; Ellen-ville, 1.37; Wappingers Falls, 1.25; Poughkeepsie, 1.04; Elmira, .92; Buffalo, .26; Syracuse, .54. Totals are for 24-hour periods ending at 7 a. m. this morning.

The Weather Bureau's extended forecast for New York State called for temperatures 3 to 5 degrees above normal to next Wednesday. Average for this time of year range from early-morning lows of 12 to afternoon highs of 40.

Philip Guston Exhibition At New York Janis Gallery

A one-man exhibition of the paintings of Philip Guston of the Maverick Road, which he has achieved in the past two and one half years is now in progress at the Sidney Janis Gallery at 15 East 57th Street in New York City.

The exhibition consists of 12 larger size oil on canvas works, approximately 6 by 6 1/2, and seven smaller oils. Guston is a meticulous worker and this collection represents his entire output for the period.

Guston's work in the past five years has become completely abstract in contrast to his Woodstock phases, which were at first very representational and later semi-abstract. His color has become more and more assertive and his use of pigment more juicy and beautifully articulated.

Guston is considered by outstanding artists and critics to be one of the leaders of the Vanguard American Art and he is ranked with artists like Pollock, deKooning, Rothko and Kline.

All of the canvases in the present exhibition already have been sold. Many of which are owned by collectors in England and Italy have been loaned for the exhibition.

Norma Thompson Phi Beta Kappa

Norma Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Thompson of Woodstock, a member of the junior class at William Smith College, is among twelve seniors and three juniors at Hobart and William Smith elected to membership in Zeta chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

The announcement was made today by John R. Farnsworth, assistant professor of history at the colleges and secretary of the chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Election to membership in the junior year comes only to those whose scholastic standing is at the very top of the honor group.

Phi Beta Kappa is a national honorary scholastic fraternity, election to which is considered the highest scholastic honor that can come to an undergraduate. It is the oldest college Greek-letter fraternity in the United States, having been organized in 1776 at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.

Election to Phi Beta Kappa is based principally on recommendation by college authorities.

Jaycees Plan Contest to Pick Name for Teens

Woodstock Jaycees have announced the makeup of several committees and committee selections in connection with the activation of the Teen Club.

Elected to the Jaycee Youth Committee were the following: Tony Laudiero, Cappy Foster, Marie Klippel, Ed Shultis, Diane Shultis, Jill Bremmer and Ed Varney. They received the highest number of votes in a ballot that also included as nominees: Susan Jorgenson, Lewis Berrjan and Herby Vogel.

First meeting of the elected committee and the JC-Jaycee committee was held at the Woodstock school. Two elected members sent their requests to be relieved from the committee due to school work problems.

The committee with the next highest number of votes were selected and appointed to committee. Louis Berrjan replaced Ed Shultis and Susan Jorgenson replaced Diane Shultis.

Laudiero Chairman

The committee appointed Tony Laudiero as chairman and Ed Varney as vice-chairman. Jill Bremmer was appointed secretary and Marie Klippel was named treasurer.

The committee, under the direction of Tony Laudiero immediately began making plans for their next function. It was decided that another dance would be the event the majority of teenagers actually desired. The evening of Feb. 22 was selected and a highly successful affair was held. There was a good rounded program of dancing to records and special events with prizes as planned by the committee. Job assignments were made to accomplish all the work.

One of the future projects will be a contest to determine and select an appropriate name for this organization. The JC-Jaycee committee was well pleased with the enthusiastic approach of the Teen Committee.

Meeting Well Attended

Present at the organizational meeting of the teen club were: Homer Foster, Robert Foster, Michael Mayer, Terry Van Valkenburgh, Albert Holmzer, David Saks, Edward Varney, Lewis Berrjan, Marie Klippel, Diane Shultis, George Baker, Gretchen Wetterar, Dorinda Riggio, Dorothy Watson, Eda Crist, Ed Shultis, Susan McClellan, Donald Damm, Tony Laudiero, Susan Jorgenson, Dorothy Werner, Joyce Van Voorhis.

Also, Elaine Gordon, Susan Foster, Holly Green, Jill Bremmer, Susan Taylor, Val Fischer, Barbara DiBeneditto, Eileen Di Salvo, Barton Good, Bruce Gordon, Edith Heckerroth, D. Elwyn, Ken Stoutenburg, Bill Baker, Carol Anne Hefty, John Topoce, Ann Combs, Cappy Foster.

Also, Eve Horodyski, Carol Emig, Harriet Scarene, Allen Waterous, Herbert Vogel, Richard Bartlett, Barbara Longyear, Robert Franz, Anne Smith, Betty Wilber, Bonnie Wilber, Paul Greenberg, Susan Bromberg.

Workshop Elects Hamilton Director

Members of the Woodstock Dramatic Workshop will continue their work on the mystery play "There's Always a Murderer" at their 7:30 p. m. meeting Monday, March 3, at the Woodstock School.

The play is scheduled for presentation in the spring.

The Workshop adopted a constitution and elected Paul M. Hamilton, director and stage manager, at its last meeting.

Also named to offices were: Clarice Leavy, secretary; Ernie Saar, treasurer; Elizabeth Biese, publicity, assisted by Jeanen Nield and Clarice Leavy.

The commanding officer was receiving a delegation of his men who were complaining about the food and in particular about the bread that was being issued. Commanding Officer--Soldiers shouldn't let themselves be bothered over trifles. Why, I'll wager that if Napoleon had had that bread when he was in Russia he'd have eaten it with gusto. One of the men--No doubt, sir. It was still fairly fresh then.

A little old man, whose hobby was inspecting the inscriptions on tombstones, stooped over to peer again at one in particular. He read it aloud this time. "Here lies John Barrister, who was a great lawyer and an honest man," he read. "Durn it," he exclaimed, "they put the lawyer's name on it, why didn't they put the other fellow's." Father had been winding the clock, dropping his shoes, and stomping about for some time without getting any results from daughter's boyfriend. Finally he shouted down the stairs. Father--Say, there, it's two-thirty! Do you think you can stay all night? Daughter's boyfriend--Well, all right, thanks. But I'll have to phone home first.

Sign along a Florida road: "Keep Florida green. Bring money."

Sara--Has Harry traveled much?

Anna--Has he! He's been to half the places on his suitcase labels.

The bank president was giving some advice to his son who was going to another city to start a business. Bank president--Always remember, son, that in business honesty is always the best policy. Boy--Yes, father. Bank president--And--er, harrumph! You'd better study up a bit on corporation law. You'll be surprised to find how many things you can do in a business way and still be honest. Farmer (hailing neighbor in car)--Going into town, Pete? Pete--Yes. Farmer--Will you take my coat along with you? Pete--Sure. Where do you want me to deliver it? Farmer--Don't worry about that. I'll be in it.

REAL SECURITY

At year's end, 16,500,000 employees were covered by private company pension or retirement plans—a gain of 7,000,000 since 1950.

In addition to those at work, 1,350,000 former employees, now retired, are enjoying the lifetime security of these plans. The total being received by them is over one billion $'s a year, or an average of $10 $'s per pensioner.

This supplements Federal Social Security. Employers are paying into these funds 3,400,000,000 $'s a year.

This is something of an answer to Walter Reuther. Thousands of workers feel safer when company earnings go into a plan that makes their old age secure rather than compel companies to share profits as earned, which generally would be money soon spent.

Reserves behind these funds are 34 billion $'s, and differ from Social Security money, which is immediately spent by a profligate Government. These billions are invested in the securities of growing American industry.

These reserves are three times as large as they were only as far back as 1950. The reserves, the number of million people covered, and the total received by retired employees are all bound to grow. PROVIDED,—

American business is not taxed, to death, or its profits squeezed by excessive wage demands.

And old age will be free from want, PROVIDED,—
These employees and their wives cast 30,000,000 votes against cheapening the $'s they are to receive, by inflation.

Getting TV License Takes Time, Money

By JAMES MARLOW
A PNews Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—You want a TV station? You need money. Lots of it. Not just for building the station and all that goes into it. But thousands and thousands just to apply for a license to run one.

No wonder a House subcommittee now is investigating the pressures put on the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), which grants the licenses.

Those in a very good position to know estimate it costs $300,000 to $500,000 to build a TV station and get it started if it's in a major, or big city, area, and perhaps no less than $200,000 if it's in a smaller place.

Costly Operation

That's after a man gets a license. But all the work and help necessary to get the license may run from $15,000 on up into hundreds of thousands of dollars—not to mention the time, which may be anywhere from many months to years.

This will give some idea of what's involved in simply applying for a TV station license. First, you get a number of forms to fill out. Then you start hiring lawyers and engineers.

To begin with, there are legal requirements. If you're an individual, are you a citizen? If you're a corporation, are you qualified to do business? You'll have to meet state requirements, too.

Next: questions about your finances, meaning proof that you can build the stations and afford to keep it running until the profits start coming in.

Many Requirements

You must show the FCC—in complete layout—the kind of programs you'll present if you get the license.

To build a station you must have land. This means you must buy it—before knowing whether you'll get a license—or lease it or get an option on it.

And there are worlds of engineering requirements to be met. All this takes months to prepare.

If you're the only one asking for a license in a particular area, you can get faster action than if others are applying for the same license. The FCC's broadcasting bureau staff go over your application and then, if satisfied, can recommend to the seven-man FCC that it give you a license.

Could Take Years

But even this takes months. Where there is a number of applicants the same staff work is done on all the applications, a special examiner holds hearings, and then the FCC holds hearings on the examiner's recommendations. More months.

Finally, even if the FCC grants a license to one applicant, the others turned down can go into court to fight the FCC decisions. That can take years.

Saul Says:

You know, we take a lot of things for granted—give them very little thought, until some emergency points up their importance.

All this by way of complimenting the N. Y. State Thruway Authority for their fine job this Winter—especially after the other week's blizzard. And our own Kingston did a top-notch job, too. Sure, we were inconvenienced some—but the snow removal task was Herculean—and it was done in record time.

And in this auto travel age, clear roads are a "must." Thank you, Gentlemen of Snow Shovel and Plow, wherever you are.

FREEMAN ADS MEAN GOOD BUSINESS

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., Feb. 28—I very seldom refer to political matters in this column, but I do wish there were some way I could interest readers in writing Dr. Arthur F. Burns, c/o the White House in Washington, how serious the situation is for many worthy businessmen.

When money is tight, as it has been during the past year, the small businessmen are the greatest sufferers. Bankers are human and loan money first to their largest depositors. These, naturally, are "big businesses." Furthermore, the majority of failures are among small businessmen, rather than large concerns. Hence, your local banker prefers to loan to the big companies and you cannot blame him.

I am not much for more government aid. I believe that the country would be better off in the end to cut it all out,—to farmers, contractors, home owners, and veterans. For a good many years our country prospered on a laissez-faire system. I fear that the present aid to pressure groups will continue until there is one grand collapse, when we must all start over again without government aid. However, that time has not come yet. The contractor and small home owner, because of increased costs, are aided by government guarantee of a portion of their loan when they build a new house. In the same way, the government would be justified in guaranteeing reasonable loans to small businessmen to cover needed inventories, improvements to stores or factories. Washington is responsible for inflation and should protect worthy business against its evil results.

Prices Which You Pay

In addition to urging your Senators and Representatives to help small worthy businessmen, every reader can help by patronizing them. I would strongly oppose boycotting "big business." Both big business and small business have their usefulness. Each group keeps the other on its toes and provides real competition. The hope of the consumer is to keep both big business and small business alive and prosperous. This means we should divide our trade between them.

The lawyers and lobbyists who are paid to represent "big business" claim that the new inventions come from the big concerns. They point to the large amounts of money which big business is spending on research. Much work may be charged to research for tax purposes. I personally have been very close to the Patent Office in Washington and believe that a larger percentage of new inventions come to the Patent Office from small business than through big business. A man will naturally work harder to invent something for his own little business than he will as an employee of a large concern. Actually, big business watches the new inventions, and buys the good patents that small businessmen have taken out. Furthermore, many patents are bought up by big business in order to smother them. We consumers would be better off if the small businessmen, who invented them, had the money to exploit them.

For Whom Will Your Son Work?

Big business can afford to pay a young man more to start than can small business. Big business goes to a college and hires three young men at $400 a month, with the idea of keeping one and letting the other two go. Small business cannot afford to do this. College graduates should be very careful not to be misled in this respect. Young people who lack the ambition to ever become independent businessmen will be happier working for big business. But the young man with initiative, courage, and independence is far better off working for the small businessman and ultimately becoming owner of a business.

I believe there is a place for both big business and small business. I am merely urging that our government and we, ourselves, do what we can to keep both groups prosperous. Trying to run a country without small business is like trying to run a Church without a Sunday School. Let me further say that if big business becomes too big, it will lead to socialism; while, without big business, the small businessman will go to sleep. Finally, all Trustees should be required to put 10% of their funds in "risk" investments, both for insurance to the beneficiaries and for the good of the nation.

Critics Prompt Ike Story on Shotguns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Critics of President Eisenhower's handling of a shotgun in a recent photograph prompted the President to tell a story, which was retold last night by George Humphrey, former secretary of the treasury. President Eisenhower was photographed leaning on his shotgun while a guest at Humphrey's Thomasville, Ga., plantation. Humphrey, speaking at a banquet in his honor, said the President read of the controversy at breakfast the next morning.

The President told the following story, Humphrey said: "There was an old mountaineer in front of a country store leaning on a muzzle-loading musket. A young fellow from the city warned him, 'it's always the gun that isn't loaded that goes off and kills someone.' And the mountaineer replied, 'in that case we're perfectly safe because this is loaded.'"

Ladder Rescues Young Woman From Gorge

NIAGARA FALLS (AP)—An aerial ladder was used by police and firemen yesterday to rescue a Toronto woman who fell into the Niagara River Gorge.

The woman, identified as Ruby May Harper, about 25, was reported in good condition later in a hospital.

A fire truck's aerial ladder with a large basket on one end was extended over the gorge and then lowered into position for a fireman to place the woman in it.

Hundreds gathered at the edge of the gorge in cold, driving rain to watch the rescue.

Must Work for County

ITHACA (AP)—Physically-fit persons on welfare rolls must go to work for the county, the Tompkins County Board of Supervisors maintains.

The board said yesterday the program would begin immediately. It added it hoped all 39 persons on welfare would be working for the county by July 1.

BRIDGEUnderled Ace Sets in Spades

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

East and West have a lay-down for five hearts but West did not choose to double the one spade opening with nothing in clubs. At his second turn he might have used the unusual no-trump to ask his partner to bid one of the red suits but he chose to pass again.

When North and South finally got to four spades West decided to double and saved something from the wreckage. South misplayed the hand and went down. South won the opening diamond lead with the ace and led a spade. West played the nine and North the queen. South returned to his hand with the ace of clubs and led a second spade.

West took his ace, cashed the queen of diamonds and then made the brilliant lead of a low heart. East won with the king and returned a club which West ruffed.

How did South misplay the

Then it would not have mattered how the defense went. South would never lose more than three tricks and he would have romped off with the rubber.

Biddy All Stars Selected for New York State Tournament

McAndrew Top Pick Scores 37

Lonnie McAndrew, sensational young Lions Club shooter who potted 37 points for a new seasonal high in the Biddy Basketball League last night, heads the all-star array announced by the league today for the New York State Biddy tournament at Saugerties.

McAndrew boosted his seasonal average to a fantastic 26 points a game in the 24-minute contest played under Biddy rules, as he sparked the Lions Club to a thrilling 51 to 46 victory over Rotary.

In the companion game, Kiwanis Club defeated Kingston Jaycees, 29-26, to remain in a first place tie with Lions at 4 wins and 1 loss each.

League Standing

Montreal Cops Title

By The Associated Press
The inevitable was a little slow coming, but Montreal finally has clinched the National Hockey League championship. All the Canadiens have to do now is wait to see who they get to warm up against in the semifinals of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

A 4-1 victory over Toronto in the only game scheduled last night gave the Canadiens the regular season pennant and tied their record for early clinchings. Montreal, which also won the title in the 60th game two seasons ago (although that one came two days earlier on Feb. 25), has totaled 85 points. The Frenchmen could lose all of their remaining 10 games and the second place Rangers, with 11 games left, would have no chance to catch up.

Montreal wasted no time nailing the playoff victory last night, building a 3-0 lead in the first period on goals by Claude Provost, Phil Goyette and Don Marshall. And when the Leafs made their first sign of getting an attack under way, on Brian Cullen's goal early in the third period, Marcel Bonin popped in a quickie to regain the three-goal bulge.

Jayvees Trounce Wheelers, 60-35

George Tomson and Ken Sickler combined their talents to give the YMCA Jayvees an easy 60-35 victory over the Wheelers on the Y hardwoods.

Sickler led with 21 points, including nine in the third period. Tomson finished with 16 and had 10 in the second quarter. Yerry paced Wheelers with 12 points.

Denver Defends Downhill Title

FRANCONIA, N. H. — Denver University's crack eight-man ski team will put its NCAA ski championship on the line today as the fifth annual tournament gets underway with a Downhill race on steep Cannon Mountain.

The Dartmouth Outing Club — host to this year's meet — moved the Downhill event to Franconia to take advantage of the 10 feet of snow that covers the mountain, as well as its rugged downhill course.

The remaining events — Slalom, Cross Country and Jumping — will be held at Hanover on the Indians' own ski layout Saturday and Sunday.

Coach Willie Schaeffler, whose Pioneers have won the event for four years running, expects close two-way action between Dartmouth and Middlebury.

St. Lawrence University of Canton, N. Y., is among the teams entered.

Onteora Can Clinch UCAL at Marlboro

Onteora Central can clinch the UCAL championship tomorrow night with a victory over Marlboro High on the latter's court. Rondout Valley, which plays Highland, can tie matters if it is victorious and the Indians go down to defeat.

Coach Ed Witko's squad holds an impressive win over Joe Cash's cagers, but anything can happen in foreign territory. And no one knows it any better than Witko.

He got clobbered at Wallkill earlier this season, and at home doubled the score against the only team that has beaten him. It is conceivable that a tie could develop.

But the Indians get the nod, principally because of Artie Gribbins, the league's best all around player, who sparks the circuit's best well-balanced club.

Wallkill and New Paltz play the other game. In the event of a tie, a playoff will probably be held March 1 or March 4.

Basketeers and 'Gales Score in Women's Loop

Sparked by the brilliant shooting of Betty Mower and Rosemary Pillsworth, the Basketeers ran up the season's high point total to rout the Starlettes, 59 to 20, last night in the Women's Rec basketball league.

Miss Pillsworth netted 22 points with 10 fields and 2 free throws, one more than Miss Mower, who hit nine times from the field and added three free throws. Joan Erena tossed in 12 points.

Rosie De Poala was the Starlette star with 16 points.

Nightingales Win
Anne Toner meshed 14 points as the Nightingales overcame Giovanniello 20 to 10.

10-4 first defeat to defeat the Black Jacks, 34-25. Ginny Russell and Judy Kelder scored seven points each for the winners and Liz Harlow contributed six.

Jack Davidson canned 12 and Pat Hayman had seven for the Jacks, who were blanked in the second quarter.

Dayton Success Helps Boost NIT Tournament

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

If officials of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament haven't formed a special pre-tournament cheering section for Tom Blackburn's Dayton Flyers, perhaps it's high time they did.

Pickings have been so slim for the NIT in its '58 roundup of college teams the NCAA hasn't grabbed. The streaking Flyers are the only acceptees rated among the nation's top 20 in the Associated Press poll.

And until or unless defending champion Bradley joins the field as the Missouri Valley Conference runnerup, 10th-ranked Dayton will continue to be the only rated biggie the NIT can call its very own.

Bradley, trailing Cincinnati in an MVC race that could end Saturday, is No. 16 in the current AP ratings. None of the possibilities for the two other remaining NIT berths figures to crack the top 20 before the regular season is over.

Rout Loyola Five
It's up to the Flyers to furnish the prestige and they're doing nicely, with a 22-2 record and a 15-game winning streak after last night's 103-69 rout of one of the NCAA's at large selections, Loyola of New Orleans.

With Arien Bockhorn popping 22 points to lead the way, the Flyers hit 55 per cent of their shots, and thoroughly rattled Loyola by stealing the ball 18 times.

Utah, named to the NIT yesterday with a good non-conference record, finally clicked within its group, spilling Brigham Young 74-56 in a Skyline Conference test.

Two other NCAA "at large" teams had better luck than Loyola. Don Hennon's 31 points enabling Pitt to nip Westminster (Pa.) 75-74, and Pete Brunone's 29 pointing the way in Manhattan's 95-77 rout of arch-rival New York University.

Iona (N.Y.), an NIT longshot possibility, ran its record to 16-6 in an 82-77 double overtime decision over St. Francis of Brooklyn. Furman whipped the Citadel 90-74 to clinch, with a 4-8 record, the eighth and last berth in the post-season tournament that determines the Southern Conference's NCAA representative.

Syracuse, playing well after a woeful start, dropped ancient rival Colgate 66-52.

Injuries Hurt US Hockey Team

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The United States made a last minute check on injured players today in preparation for the opening of the World Ice Hockey Championships.

The 10-day tournament got underway with a game between Finland and Czechoslovakia. Norway and Sweden clashed later, with the U. S. and Poland winding up the day's competition.

Russia and Canada, the two favorites, open Saturday's program.

Niagara-Orange Clash Features Upstate Slate

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

Judging from reports on advance ticket sales, a baseball attendance boom is to be expected in most big league cities with Los Angeles, New York, Milwaukee and San Francisco showing the way.

The Dodgers, with their 100,000-seat Coliseum in Los Angeles, expect to start smashing records opening day and hope to keep it up the rest of the year.

All sorts of estimates have been made about the Dodgers' advance sale but Harold Parrott, the club's business manager, will say only that the figure "is past the $1,250,000 mark and is almost twice what it was at this date in Brooklyn last year."

The Giants also are attracting plenty of attention in their new home in San Francisco. Pete Hoffman, the ticket manager, says approximately $925,000 is in the till, almost a 100 per cent increase over last year's sale at this time in New York.

With no more opposition from the Giants and Dodgers, the Yankees are reaping a rich harvest in New York. A month ago, club officials said the advance had reached $1,500,000. The club record of $1,700,000 probably has fallen already and the final tally on opening day may be close to $2,000,000.

Despite a self-imposed limit of less than 5,000 season box sales, the Yanks have found the fan most enthusiastic in their demand for the combination plan including opening day, night games and Sundays.

Milwaukee, as usual, expects to close out all its 1958 season tickets long before the opener.

The Bonnies, now 18-3 for the season, and Niagara, with an 18-5 mark, both owe much of their current success to sound sixth and seventh men.

There are plenty of good five-man clubs, but the Eagles and Bonnies both have the manpower to spell their starters with little loss of effectiveness.

Donovan particularly counts his seven blessings. "Any one of those kids is capable of throwing in 20 points on a given night," he says.

Niagara has the reputation of being a one-man club, but what a man! Big "Boo" Ellis leads the nation in rebounds with 448 and he is averaging nearly 24 points a game.

Ranking second to Ellis recently has been Ritchie Vieth, a backcourt man who has averaged 19 points for the past seven games.

las Arena Sept. 23, the same night Carmen Basilio won the middleweight crown from Ray Robinson at Yankee Stadium.

Carlos was cut over both eyes and barely pulled out the decision. Tibbs, who has become a winning fighter in the last two years, has an even 43-43-3 won-lost-draw record. He has scored 11 knockouts and has been stopped three times. Ortiz' record is 24-0 including nine knockouts.

Nats Slip In Race

By The Associated Press

Detroit's hold on second place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn. was a little more secure today, but not so for the runnerup Syracuse Nationals in the Eastern Division.

The Pistons moved 1½ games in front of their place Cincinnati last night by defeating the Minneapolis Lakers 112-109 in the first game of a doubleheader at Philadelphia. Then the Nationals, with a chance to apply the crusher to Philadelphia's hopes for second place in the Eastern section, dropped a 97-91 decision to the Warriors.

Trail Nats by Two

As the result of their victory, the Warriors advanced within two games of the Nats and left the New York Knickerbockers, trailing by another 3½, with a very, very slim chance of making the playoffs.

George Yardley, the league's No. 1 scorer, tallied 41 points but the Pistons had to stave off one Laker rally after another in the closing minutes.

Syracuse jumped off to a 13-2 lead but held only a four-point margin, 30-26, at the end of the first quarter. The Warriors had tied it at 51 by the end of the half and moved out in front in the third period as Tom Gola and Joe Grabowski sparked the attack.

OSWEGO (AP)—Plattsburgh challenges host Oswego and Buffalo bucks Cortland in today's semi-College Invitational Basketball finals of the annual State Teachers Tournament.

In first-round games yesterday, Plattsburgh upset top-seeded Brockport 75-53; Oswego downed Oneonta 68-59; Buffalo defeated Albany 63-54, and Cortland gave Potsdam a 65-48 drubbing.

Plattsburgh was ahead all the way against Brockport, despite the 21-point performance of the losers' Carl Benedict.

Oswego trailed by two points, with five minutes left to play, when Art Weeks evened it again at 38-38 with a layup. Weeks and Ron Davis then added four points each and Herb Jamison two, to win the game. Davis' 28 points was the top score of the day.

Jerry Large, snaring 13 of Buffalo's 39 rebounds, helped limit Albany star Gary Holway to 7 points. Cortland, with a 32-23 lead at the half, sent in its subs for the remainder of the game.

Eight of the 11 teachers colleges are entered in the tournament, which ends Saturday. Each team plays three games.

The Hershey Bears are back where they had been almost all season long in the American Hockey League—all alone on top. Trouble is, Cleveland's persistent Barons get a crack at scrambling back into a tie for the lead tonight.

Hershey had to work overtime to get the lead back, beating

Trailing 42-34 at the three quarter mark, the MJM Junior High varsity exploded for a 20-point fourth quarter to edge Saugerties Junior High varsity, 54-51, yesterday at the Sawyer hardwoods.

It was the fifth straight victory for Coach Ronnie Cole's Cagers, who trailed 22-19 at the half.

The spectacular shooting of Duane Van De Mark again highlighted the Kingston triumph. He potted 24 points and bucketed 18 of them in the second half, mostly on his unstoppable jump shots.

Mike Celuch canned 12 points for the locals. Hardlicka led Saugerties with 19.

The MJM travels to Rondout Valley Monday in quest of its sixth straight victory.

The Weather

FRIDAY, FEB. 28, 1958

Sun rises at 6:34 a. m.; sun sets at 5:44 p. m., EST.
Weather: Rain

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 37 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 37 degrees.

Weather Forecast

CHILLING RAIN

Southeastern New York — Mixture of rain and wet snow in higher elevations and mostly rain in Hudson Valley this afternoon. Intermittent light rain and wet snow tonight into Saturday. Temperatures remaining in 30s through the period. Winds northeast to north 10-25 this afternoon diminishing tonight to under 15 Saturday.

Pre-Cana Lenten Conference Set March 2, 5, 9, 12

A Pre-Cana conference will be held at St. Joseph's Church during the Lenten month of March, it was announced today by the Rev. George A. Kelly, director of the Family Life Bureau of the Catholic Archdiocese of New York.

Conferences are scheduled Sundays, March 2 and 9 at 2:30 p. m. and Wednesdays, March 5 and 12 at 8 p. m.

"More couples prepare for marriage during Lent than at any other time of the year," the Rev. James V. Keating, regional Family Life Director of Ulster County, said today. "These young people," he continued, "realize that they cannot assume simply because getting married is so natural, that they know all that married life implies. Pre-Cana not only awakens them to the facts of life, but supplies them with the inspiration they need to be better than some of their marrying friends."

Pre-Cana conferences are a series of lectures conducted by priests, doctors and married couples on the various aspects of married life.

Cooler Weather Is Due Tonight

ALBANY (AP) — The extended forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today, to 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Eastern New York — Somewhat cooler weather than in recent days will set in late tonight and continue with no marked changes through Wednesday. Temperature will average 3 to 5 degrees above normal. Precipitation will be generally light and average under one-half inch, with some light rain or snow tonight or Saturday and again about Monday.

Western New York — A cool, damp period is indicated with temperatures averaging 4 or 5 degrees above normal. Minor temperature changes and mostly overcast skies with frequent periods of generally light, wet snow or rain through the next 5 days. Precipitation totalling about one-half to three-quarters inch.

Temperature Normals —Normal temperatures now range from early morning lows of 12 to 15 degrees in the north, 15 to 20 in central and west and 20 to 25 in the southeast. Highest afternoon temperatures now are 30 to 35 north, 34 to 38 central and west and 35 to 40 southeast.

State Lawmakers

bill recognized that fact and was prepared only after detailed study.

Charles Wesley Dunn of New York City, general counsel of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, said he was confident a federal law would be approved this year. Meanwhile, the state should wait, he added.

Edward F. Smith, an attorney for Associated Industries, said it was "entirely unnecessary" for the state to have a food additives law when federal legislation was pending.

Under the GOP measure, which was backed by Assemblywoman Janet Hill Gordon of Norwich and Sen. George Metcalf of Auburn, the State Health Department would supervise the law.

Under the Democratic bill, sponsored by Assemblyman John Monteleone of Brooklyn and Sen. Jeremiah Bloom of Manhattan, the Agriculture Department would supervise the law.

Plane Is Detained

BONE, Algeria (AP) — A Flying Fortress loaded with arms and the four crew members, including two Americans, were still detained here today four days after being forced down by engine trouble, a police officer said.

Reports here and from Israel and Paris agreed the plane was on a flight from Israel to a Latin American country.

The news of the incident had been bottled up here since the plane landed Tuesday while the French investigated whether the arms were intended for Algerian rebels.

The French Foreign Ministry in Paris said earlier today that "the plane is at liberty to leave when it wishes and the crew members are not under restraint."

Set Delinquency, Crime Institute July 27 to Aug. 2

The ninth annual F. A. Moran Memorial Institute on Delinquency and Crime will be held this year at St. Lawrence University, Canton, during the week of July 27-August 2.

"Because of the current deep and general concern with the allied problems of youthful delinquency and organized crime," said Commissioner of Correction Thomas J. McHugh, chairman of the advisory council for the Institute, "the theme of 'coordination in the fight against crime' will run through all the classes, workshops and general sessions."

Two New Agencies

Further emphasizing this coordination will be the presence of two additional State agencies among the sponsors of the Institute, it was announced by Charles S. Antolina, deputy commissioner of correction and chairman of the institute planning committee.

The Division of State Police and the Division of Bureau of the Division of Safety, he said, will join this year with the agencies that have sponsored the nationally renowned Institute in the past—St. Lawrence University, the N.Y.S. Departments of Correction, Social Welfare, Mental Hygiene and Civil Service, the Division of Parole, the State Youth Commission and the State Commission of Correction, along with such cooperating groups as the N.Y.S. Sheriffs Association, the N.Y.S. Association of Chiefs of Police, the N.Y.S. Association of Magistrates, the Prison Association of New York, the American Correctional Association and the National Jail Association.

At a meeting of the planning committee in Albany this week it was agreed that leading school administrators would also be invited to participate in this year's sessions.

Can Accommodate 500

Dean Joseph J. Romoda, representing St. Lawrence University, said that there would be accommodations for about 500 participants at the 1958 Institute, whose faculty will again include recognized experts in the various phases of law enforcement and correctional treatment from all parts of the United States.

Commissioner McHugh and Dean Romoda further announced that during the week prior to the Institute, July 20-26, a special in-service training program for selected personnel of the Department of Correction would be held at St. Lawrence University.

Colleges Boost Fees

GENEVA (AP)—Hobart and William Smith Colleges announced today that tuition will rise from $880 to $1,000 a year next September.

Dormitory and room and board charges will increase about $50 a year.

Second Indictment Is Made At Owego, Move on Silence

OWEGO (AP)—A sealed indictment returned by a grand jury investigating the Apalachin gangland convention will be opened March 14.

The indictment, the second returned by the Tioga County grand jury, was returned yesterday accompanied by a warning that the jury's probe of the famous gathering would not be blocked by the refusal of witnesses to talk.

In a joint statement, Dist. Atty. George Boldman and the state's acting investigation commissioner, Arthur L. Reuter, said the person named in the second indictment would be arraigned in county court March 14, the date of the jury's next meeting.

"The grand jury is determined that its investigation will not be blocked by the refusal of witnesses, who have been granted immunity from prosecution, to answer proper questions," Boldman and Reuter also said.

They indicated in the statement that the jurors were considering offering immunity to more witnesses.

Previous to yesterday's action the jury already had indicted one silent witness on a criminal contempt charge. It is believed to be proceeding against two others.

The jury also questioned three Auburn men yesterday about the hoodlum meeting last Nov. 14 at the palatial home of Joseph Barbara.

They were Patsy Sciortino, 42, a bleach-maker; Sam Monachino, 63, and his brother, Patsy, 50. The Monachinos operate a beer business.

Plan $500,000 Suit

The three have filed notice that they plan to sue the state for $500,000 each, charging that their backgrounds were damaged by improper connection with the gangland meeting.

The brothers have told the legislative watchdog committee they went to see Barbara Nov. 14 to arrange for rental of a trailer. Sciortino said he went along for the ride.

Sciortino was questioned by the jury yesterday for over an hour. The Monachinos each spent about 30 minutes behind the closed doors. All were re-subpoenaed to appear in April.

Teenagers Held In Albany Theft

ALDEN (AP) — Four teenagers who say they were traveling from their homes in Worcester, Mass., to visit friends in Iowa were under arrest today, charged with burglary in the theft of $111 from a supermarket near Albany.

They were identified as Lawrence R. MacFarland, 17; Peter P. Lucason, 16; Douglas W. Turner, 16; and Peter L. Martin, 17.

State police said they noticed the boys yesterday in a parked automobile in this Erie County community and questioned them because of their age and appearance.

Police found $111 under the car seat.

The boys admitted taking the money from a supermarket on Route 90 shortly after midnight, police said.

They told police they left Worcester Wednesday night in Lucason's car.

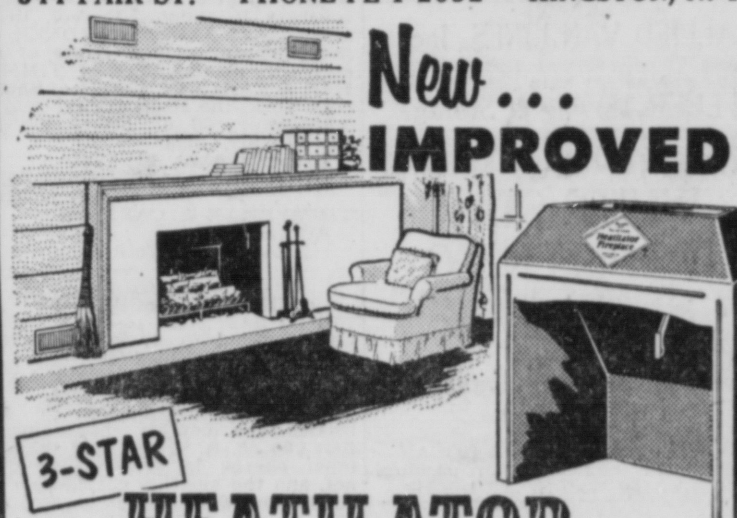

Police said they would be turned over to Albany authorities today.

Khrushchev Faces

on. But this sort of bureaucracy got in the way of farm production.

The central committee's decision probably means the end of the machine-tractor stations eventually, unless Khrushchev is reversed. Machinery will be sold directly to the collective farms. But Khrushchev did not achieve this approval without opposition, as evidenced by guarded statements in the Soviet press.

With characteristic double-talk, the party speaks now of a "further development of the collective farm system," raising the possibility of an even bolder Khrushchev revision of Stalin.

Eventually this might mean extending the area of private enterprise in farming, reflecting Khrushchev's determination to overtake U. S. per capita food production. Recent hints indicate a move to create new production incentives.

While party actions in such affairs are announced as unanimous there have been indications of warning from an opposition to avoid any move reflecting on the over-all superiority of the collective farm system.

Khrushchev still harps on preferential development of heavy industry, which builds world authority. But now he softens the line, promising that the U. S. S. R. is ready to "permit significant increase in the production of high quality and cheap consumer goods." He forecasts "abundance of food supplies for the population, and raw materials for light industry."

This hints at pressure from middle-income Russians. Although proud of Soviet scientific advances they are having an uncomfortable look at their own back yard and disliking the comparison with the rest of the advanced world.

Navigator Dies As B47 Crashes

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A big intercontinental B47 bomber plowed into the ground just before landing last night, killing the navigator.

Three other crew members walked away from the smashed six-jet plane, which was scattered over a half-mile area.

Dead was Lt. Samuel G. Harding, whose wife, Lucia, lives at Salina, Kan., where the B47 was stationed at Schilling Air Force Base.

Air Force spokesman at Biggs AFB here said all lights on the plane apparently were out when it crashed 2½ miles northwest of Biggs in rough terrain. The plane broke in two.
